Feature Explanations

ROLLENSPIEL · AKTIV

Bardic Inspiration

At the table: You inspire allies with words or music, giving them a real mechanical boost on their next roll.

Mechanically: As a Bonus Action, give a creature within 60 ft an Inspiration Die (1d6 at levels 1-4). They can add it to an attack, ability check, or Saving Throw within 10 minutes, after seeing the roll. Uses: Charisma modifier per long rest.

ROLEPLAY · PASSIVE

Human Versatility

At the table: Humans are flexible. This character is not locked into one specific origin idea and fits into almost any group.

Mechanically: This bonus already helped during character creation. The extra scores or choices are already included on page 1.

False identity

At the table: I have a false identity as the daughter of a wealthy Lord. I have documentation that "proves" this, as well as a ring bearing "my family's crest." In reality, I won it by cheating the Lord's actual daughter in a game of chance. I need to make sure to never come across that Lord or daughter or they will take their revenge for impersonating them. I keep multiple holy symbols on me and invoke whichever deity might come in handy in any given situation. I am a free spirit - no one tells me what to do. Swindling people who are more powerful than me (or who are full of themselves) is irresistible to me- money is just an added bonus.

Mechanically: Entered manually: details are in your own rulebook.

SPELL SAVE DC

SPELL ATTACK BONUS

CANTRIPS

Cantrips can be used again and again. They do not spend Spell Slots.

Mage Hand

UTILITY · CUNNING

At the table: You create a floating spectral hand that picks up, opens, or operates objects. Creativity is the only limit.

Mechanically: A spectral hand appears at a point within 30 ft. For 1 minute it can lift up to 10 lb, open doors, flip switches, or search bags. It can't attack, cast spells, or snatch held objects.

Vicious Mockery

DAMAGE · CONTROL · SOCIAL

At the table: You insult a foe so brilliantly that it literally hurts and they flub their next attack. The classic Bard move.

Mechanically: One target within 60 ft makes a Wisdom Saving Throw against your Spell Save DC. On failure: 1d4 Psychic Damage, and its next Attack Roll before the end of its next turn has disadvantage. Disadvantage means rolling two d20s and taking the worse result.

LEVEL-1 SPELLS

These spells are stronger, but spend Spell Slots. When the slots are empty, you need a rest.

Charm Person

SOCIAL · CUNNING

At the table: You charm a person and they see you as a friendly acquaintance, for one hour. Powerful in social situations, useless mid-combat.

Mechanically: One humanoid within 30 ft must make a Wisdom Saving Throw against your Spell Save DC. On failure it's Charmed for 1 hour: it won't attack you and regards you as a friend. When the spell ends, the target knows it was Charmed.

Comprehend Languages

UTILITY · MAGIC

At the table: You understand any spoken or written language for one hour, even if you can't speak back. Valuable for exploration and diplomacy.

Mechanically: Can be cast as a Ritual (no Spell Slot). For 1 hour you understand any language you hear or read, literally. Speaking or writing in other languages is not included. Useful before important negotiations.

Disguise Self

CUNNING · SOCIAL

At the table: You magically change your appearance: different clothes, different features, even different height. Ideal for disguises and infiltration.

Mechanically: For 1 hour you freely change your appearance (clothing, armor, height  $\pm 1$  ft, face). The illusion doesn't hold up to physical contact: touching you or close inspection reveals it. Not a concentration spell.

Healing Word

HEALING · SUPPORT · RANGE

At the table: You call out to an ally from a distance and heal them with a divine word, no touching needed. The most flexible healing spell in the game.

Mechanically: Bonus Action. Restores 1d4 + your spellcasting modifier in HP to a creature within 60 ft. Less healing than Cure Wounds, but cast as a Bonus Action: you can still attack. Ideal for quickly reviving downed allies.
